BRAND PARTNER SPOTLIGHT

Tina McKenzie

Tina has had great success with our incredible products. She has not let anything stop her or get in the way of her goals! All of Michigan should feel lucky – Tina is one of the most kind, genuine people we've had the privilege of getting to know. We look forward to watching her and HER GOATS continue to grow and help those around her

Megan Miller

Megan walks the walk and talks the talk. She inspires everyone she comes into contact with and shares FITTEAM relentlessly. When she isn't at her full time job, the busy mom of 4 is helping others with their physical, financial, emotional, and spiritual goals. We know that nothing will get in Megan's way of helping others!

Kristen Quigley

Kristen is one of the most positive and outgoing FITTEAM Brand Partners we have. She has a constant CAN-DO attitude and her spunk and enthusiasm is contagious. You might also notice – she is the "Facebook Live Queen," often going live daily (sometimes even more than once a day)! # BUSINESS BUILDING TIP

Become a Professional

A key element in growing your business is the ability to attract new business. Specifically as a FITTEAM Brand Partner, this is your ability to gather prospects/leads. These leads eventually convert into sales which in turn helps grow your business. This continued flow of new business is critical to reaching success as a business owner and entrepreneur. The number one way to attract new business is to make sure you are the absolute best at what you do! If you are the best at what you do people will consider you a professional. Below are two tips that will help you become a professional in your field.

1. Commit to your craft! By committing to your craft you are acknowledging your dedication and making an agreement with yourself to continuously improve and work on yourself. This is how you will transform your ordinary into extraordinary.

2. Always go back to the basics, no matter how successful you become. This may seem intuitive however as success grows sometimes it can be easy to lose sight of how it all got started, but you can always rely on the basics that built your business and they will always hold you accountable. Maintaining site of how you started and where you have gone will help give you that professional advantage.
